

What is life

By Heather Afa Petelo Sauvao

What is life

What is it

I know what the definition of life is it's living up to expectations of worldly things and I'm done trying to live up to your expectations.

I'm done trying to be someone I'm not

I'm done trying to be familiar when I just wanted to be popular

I'm done trying to get an a plus when I get an a minus

I'm done trying to be like you...

I'm done trying to have real friends when they turn out to be fake

I'm done trying to be appreciated even though I get rejected

I'm done with everyone telling me it's going to be fine when it actually doesn't turn out to be.

I'm done with people calling me basic, unattractive to calling me plastic.

I'm done trying to create a future for myself when where just repeating the past.

You see long long time ago life was great where our roots were strong and our leaves blossomed as nothing broke.

Now you see life as dead weeds trying to seek its light and thirst.

They even use idols to prove that expectation needs you to see success success success and not failure.

I mean Oprah Winfrey's the first black American women to become a host for her own show. I'm not her

Steve Jobs creator of apple I'm not him

Ellen Degenerous multi millionaire I'm not her

Bill gates richest man on earth I'm not him

And I ain't them.

But I'm Oprah Winfrey who failed five times for being too emotional.

I'm Steve Jobs who failed at his first opening.

I'm Ellen who found it hard to be accepted.

I'm Bill Gates who failed with his first company.

Life is like a ball it has rough edges that need to soften and it bounces around like how life is portrayed these days.

Brothers and sisters

I to you

Or you to I, life maybe hard but what if it was supposed to be because when we listen close.

WE ARE THE CHANGE OF TODAY'S HISTORY!!!!
